

School transportation

Pant provides school transportation for disabled elementary school students with legal domicile in Reykjavík, Garðabær, Mosfellsbær and Seltjarnarnes.

Applications for school transportation must be made to the head of the special need department or the principal at the beginning of school attendance. The school sends Pant confirmation that the student is authorized to use the transportation service.

Start of school

- Guardians book fixed rides to ensure consistency
- An arrival time at school is booked.
- Students in the same neighborhood travel to school together
- The car waits for three minutes.
- For consistency, book before noon on the last business day before

When the student is picked up in the morning depends on how many fellow students are in the same neighborhood and how far they have to travel to school. On the first few days of a new school year, students need to be ready to get in the car 45 minutes before school starts, and an hour before if they live in Mosfellsbær. If there are few changes to the rides, they will stabilize within two to three weeks and the car will arrive at a similar time thereafter. The estimated pickup time can be seen on My Pages, but you should expect the car to arrive five minutes before or ten minutes after the estimated time.

What happens if the student does not show up for their ride?

If the student does not show up for their ride, all other rides that day will be canceled unless a call is made and a request is made for all rides for the day to remain as they were. It is therefore important to notify us if students, for example, travel to school by other means but want to use the transportation service to go home or to their after-school activities.

Important information for drivers

Important information for drivers is a special message that comes with the student on all rides. This is done to further ensure the safety of the student. Examples of messages are: "Has epilepsy" - "Cannot express himself but understands when spoken to", etc. It is worth noting that drivers should always ensure the reception of students.
